

OIA's Product Spotlight

One item you can never have too many of, are blankets. Sleeping bag blankets have continued to post positive sales over the same period last year. While April 2018 sales have far surpassed those of 2017. A lot of their popularity comes from their versatility. Throw them over your sleeping bag in the winter for added warmth, lay them out for sitting at festivals, and wrap it around you for a late night by the fire. The other big perk is their price tag, which on average is $71. Making them excellent for gifts or last minute purchases before weekend camping trips. Some popular examples are the Kelty Bestie, Rumpl Fleece Puffy, or the Wester Mountaineering Cloud 9 Comforter. Keeping a few of these in-stock is never going to start to crowd the overhead.

*SMLY – Same Month Last Year